REPUBLICAN DRYS
HAVE CONFERENCE

Neither Brown Nor Garfield
Has Taken Text Of Plank
To Chicago

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 9.—The badly mutilated omnibus economy bill was sent to conference today, accompanied by predictions that its estimated total of $120,000,000 in federal savings would be further deducted.

Several senators expressed doubt that the senate and house conferees would be able to iron out conflicting provisions for reducing the federal payroll during the next fiscal year.

State conferees were ready to uphold the furlough plan which the senate first rejected but later accepted, under pressure from the administration. Senator Jones (R.) of Washington, chairman of the senate finance committee declared he would resist efforts to approve in conference the ten per cent flat cut which the senate first accepted but later rejected.

Checked Career
House conferees were instructed to back the provision for a 11 per cent pay cut with $2,500 exemption. The omnibus economy bill underwent a checked career both in house and senate. Starting out to reduce the government budget for the next fiscal year by $300,000,000, the house leaders were thwarted by bi-Partisan groups which whittled the total of economies to $42,000,000.

No Plank Submitted
"No plank has been submitted to the president, and therefore no plank has been agreed to by him."

At the same time it was said that neither Postmaster General Brown nor James R. Garfield had taken the text of such a plank to Chicago.

Report of executive approval was heard in the senate just after Brown and Garfield conferred with the president as they prepared to depart for Chicago.

Drys Have Meeting
The Republican "dry bloc" of the Senate, which attempted to agree on some move to halt a wet plank, failed to reach any record. Some of its members argued they were committed in favor of Prohibition and would remain so, despite the platform. Others admitted favoring resubmission, though opposing a resubmission plank. Still others declared they would not go to the convention and consequently would not be bound by the plank.

NEIGHBORS AID IN SAVING FURNITURE

Fire of undetermined origin, which started about 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, consumed the home of A. A. McKee of the Wilmington road, three miles from New Castle, with a loss of approximately $4,000.

Mr. McKee who resides there with his mother was the only one at home yesterday afternoon. At noon he got his dinner and had gone across the road to visit a neighbor, when he noticed smoke coming from the house. Hurrying across, he found the kitchen ablaze in many places.

Neighbors were summoned and assisted in removing the contents of the downstairs and the cellar which had an outside entry way. A call was also sent to the New Castle fire department, which was on the scene quickly but the fire had gained such headway and everything was so dry, it was impossible to check the blaze which quickly consumed the structure.

The home, which was a six-room structure was comparatively a new house, having been erected within the past ten years. It was not learned whether any insurance was carried or not.

Mr. McKee is of the opinion that the fire may have started from defective wiring or from the kitchen stove. Mr. McKee's mother, it is stated, had been in ill health most of the past winter, and the loss of her home has been a severe shock.

Baby Left For Dead, Revives, Will Likely Live

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 9.—Police from Pittsburgh to Philadelphia today sought a needlessly heartbroken father who is mourning the "death" of his two-day-old infant son.

Walter Greene, the father, brought the "body" of the baby to a funeral director for burial yesterday. He said the child had been sickly since its birth Monday.

Then he drove away, en route to Philadelphia.

The undertaker unwrapped blankets around the baby. Suddenly the little form moved, then a whimper came.

The infant was rushed to Mercy hospital and placed in an incubator. Physicians nursed the little spark of life into full flame.

Today the baby slept contentedly at the hospital.

The men are: Edward Humprey, 34; Vincent Ruggen and John Rakko, all of Pittsburgh.

A search of the automobile revealed a number of revolvers and a sawed-off shotgun, similar to that used in the New Castle killing. No money was found in the automobile, police said.

DETROIT, June 9.—Harry Fleischer, notorious Detroit "Purple Gangster" in the Lindbergh kidnapping case, surrendered today to Wayne County Prosecutor Harry S. Toy.

He is charged with the murder of three members of the "Little Navy Gang" in an apartment house here on September 16, 1931. They were Izzy Sutken, Hymie Paul and Joe Revoviz.

Fleischer's attorney, Edward Kennedy, said he was satisfied of the innocence of his client both in connection with the Lindbergh kidnapping and with the Collingwood Manor massacre, for which his three associates are in prison because of perjured testimony.

Claims Alibi
The attorney declared that Fleischer could prove he was not in the vicinity of Hopewell, N. J., the home of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, on the night the babe was snatched from his crib, never to be seen alive again by his parents.

His surrender brings to an end a far-flung search that extended from Canada southward to Mexico. At various times he was reported in Mexico, across the border from El Paso. Searching parties went after him, but to no avail.

The prosecuting attorney's office was amazed when this most-hunted of all gangsters nonchalantly walked in and said:

"Well, boys, here I am."

Prosecutor Toy had no warning of his coming. He was flabbergasted when Fleischer, a broad grin on his face, stepped from an elevator on the fifth floor of the police station and strode into his office.

Accompanied By Attorneys
Fleischer was accompanied by his attorney, William Freedman, and Edward H. Kennedy, who defended three other members of the Purple Gang when they were tried and convicted of the massacre.

The elusive gangster was nattily dressed. He wore a blue suit, red tie and new straw hat.

Fleischer said the reason he did not surrender and submit to questions of authorities investigating the Lindbergh kidnappings was because of the murder warrant hanging over his head in connection with the Collingwood Manor massacre here.

Local authorities are more interested in prosecuting the murder charge against Fleischer than in the WASHINGTON, June 9.—The bonus army turned down a 50 mile ride out of town today.

Its leaders told the District of Columbia the bonus boys didn't want to ride, and set about the business of whipping a new national organization into permanent shape. A dozen big motor lorries placed at the disposal of any marchers who cared to set out homeward might as well have been hitching posts for all the consideration they got from the marchers.

The bonus-seeking veterans had other things to think about.

There were nearly ten thousand of them here today—ten thousand men who came to lay on the doorstep of the American government a dogged demand for cash payment of the soldiers' bonus, and who calculate to stay until they get action.

BONUS MARCHERS MAKE BRIEF STOP

Trucks Ready As Host Arrives

Marchers Are Loaded In And Transported On Toward Pittsburgh

IN NEW CASTLE ABOUT 8 O'CLOCK

Stopping only long enough to load into trucks that were waiting, 345 "Bonus Marchers" from San Francisco, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Milwaukee, left New Castle Wednesday evening at 7:45. The trucks were ordered by state police not to stop in Beaver Falls or the adjoining towns according to the drivers and the marchers were taken to McKees Rocks.

Early Wednesday morning "Joan of Arc of the West," Mrs. William Perot, her husband and Joseph Gerard came to New Castle from Lowellville and told Mayor C. B. Mayne that their men were preparing to move from Lowellville to New Castle. The three people made a favorable impression upon the mayor, and he said that if the marchers got to New Castle arrangements would be made to truck them on through the Beaver Valley.

Plenty Of Trucks

A small committee was appointed by the mayor to aid him in securing trucks and by seven thirty the parking lot near the Central Fire station on South Jefferson street, looked like a truckers' convention. There were 8 more trucks than were needed to haul the marchers and all of the delegation had ample room. A committee of men from the American Legion gathered considerable groceries and foodstuffs which were taken to the Fire Department and long before the 345 men got to New Castle arrangements had been made to get them on their way. As they marched into the parking lot, James Oxley, the commanding officer was informed that the trucks were ready and that it would be just as well if the men loaded and got farther on their way to Pittsburgh. He agreed that this was the thing to do and the leading began immediately.

Detroulers Get Out

Earlier in the day, other trucks had hauled the marchers from Detroit, 120 of them, through to Beaver Falls. These men were the remnants of the Cleveland-Detroit outfits which had come into town Tuesday and had been left when C. B. Cowan took 200 out on a P. & L. E. train-day morning.

Pace first decided that he would attempt to persuade the B. & O. railroad to provide him with transportation for his men. Later he changed his mind and appealed to Mayor Mayne for trucks. The mayor turned him over to a committee of American Legion members who got trucks enough to haul the 120 men out. Pace first insisted that he had to get transportation to Pittsburgh. This was answered by several overpass veterans who said to Pace that they were getting trucks to haul the men to Beaver Falls, that it was being done to get them out of the county and that he could either take the transportation offered to Beaver Falls or hike. He took the trucks.

The movement of the Pacific Coast men was made expeditiously and relieved New Castle of the necessity of keeping the men overnight. The co-operation of merchants and truck owners was splendid and enabled Mayor Mayne to get the large body of marchers through New Castle with no disorder or fuss.

Not In Pittsburgh Yet

PITTSBURGH, June 9.—The Rev. James R. Cox, Catholic priest and champion of the jobs, took off by plane today for Washington where he is scheduled to carry the cause of the bonus army before congress. Thousands of marching groups were congregated in and around Pittsburgh today. More than 100 marchers who arrived in McKees Rocks from New Castle early this morning were heavily guarded by police who charged the men comprised a contingent of the Workers' Ex-Service Men's League, alleged Communist organization.

Authorities said no trucks would be furnished to transport this group through the city. Another group, headed by Mrs. Vera Perata of Oakland, Cal., arrived early today from New Castle after an 18-day transcontinental march from California. It was believed police aid would be given this group of 350 coast veterans who disclaimed any Communist leanings.

Lindbergh angle, inasmuch as no evidence has been offered to link him with the latter.

Therefore, it is doubtful that he will be taken to New Jersey for questioning, although prosecutor Harry F. Toy said he would not object to New Jersey police questioning Fleischer here.

He surrendered on a warrant charging him with the same crime for which his three cohorts are now in prison.

Fleischer has a record of 23 arrests, the charges ranging from speeding to murder. He has been convicted four times, twice for bootlegging, once on a charge of receiving stolen property and once for speeding. Fines were the extent of his punishment in all cases.

Other charges against Fleischer have included kidnapping, robbery, assault, bootlegging and larceny, but on each of those he was discharged.

Schwarzkoepf surprised TRENTON, N. J., June 9.—Col. H. Norman Schwarzkoepf head of the New Jersey state police expressed surprise when informed by the International News Service today that Harry Fleischer, long sought for questioning in the Lindbergh kidnapping, had given himself up in Detroit.

Schwarzkoepf said he had received no news of Fleischer's surrender from Detroit police. He immediately wired to Detroit asking that New Jersey police be given an opportunity of questioning the alleged leader of the notorious purple gang.

Fleischer and Abe Wagner, reputed to be his lieutenant in underworld activities, have been sought since the first week of the kidnapping of the Lindbergh child. Schwarzkoepf frequently had said that no evidence was available against Fleischer but that he wanted merely for questioning.

Reported at various times to be in Nova Scotia, Boston, Mexico and Halifax, Fleischer had been an elusive willowisp. Police of the country have searched diligently for him and more than one hundred men suspected of having been the Detroit fugitive have been held at one time or another until they could identify themselves.

Despite this great man hunt, which of late centered in Mexico across the border from El Paso, where he several times was reported as having been seen, Fleischer has been in Detroit for three days and said he appeared on the streets regularly without being recognized by police or molested by the searchers.

Fleischer entered the case when Col. Schwarzkoepf announced that he was investigating the whereabouts of all men who had ever been involved in a kidnapping case. Several years ago Fleischer was suspected of having been the master mind behind a kidnapping. This was the only slender thread to attach him to the Lindbergh case Schwarzkoepf insisted.

legislative program prior to June 20 when the group of members from rural counties will convene again and when Gov. Gifford Pinchot will hold what may be a final conference on the proposed program, appeared slight.

The group that met here yesterday, unlike the other blocks that have gathered in secret conferences, were willing that newspapers should be present when they reviewed their past. They did not spare themselves either in regretting their actions on legislation or in proposals for salary reductions.

Apologizes Extended

Members took the floor and apologized for having supported the creation of bodies like the greater Pennsylvania council. Rep. Harper Barker, Fulton, boasted he had been the only member of the house to vote against creation of the department of revenue.

After several members had gone into detail on the necessity for lowering salaries, Rep. Jacob M. Clinchbaugh, York, reminded the group that during the last special session a similar move was regarded as a joke and that a bill to make it effective had obtained only a dozen votes.

Members of the group even went so far as to suggest that even judges on the bench and teachers in the schools might share a tightened purse in times of adversity.

Opinions Expressed

Rep. Fred Patterson, Beaver, pointed out that sitting judges had been able to benefit from salary increases voted by the legislature and declared that he was unable to understand why the rule would not work both ways if a lower salary schedule were approved.

The provisions of the Edmonds Act and its mandatory salary increases for school employees was attacked by Rep. Harvey Surface, Snyder county. He announced his intention of backing legislation which would put teacher salaries nearer par with other lines of work.

Except with regard to the public employees who now receive low salaries, the group was unanimous in agreement upon the necessity for a lowered salary schedule.

Senator Leon C. Prince, considered the most eloquent member of the upper house, led in the demand for the elimination of costly public services whose value is questionable. He charged that people imported from other states are being paid $200 a month, given a secretary and an automobile, to collect data which already are on file in the capitol.

Costly Practice

Rep. Charles L. Terry, Wyoming, advocated a system comparable to civil service for state workers. He cited the large cost to the state when hundreds of efficient workers are discarded for purely political reasons and their jobs filled with supporters of the reigning administration. No private business, he asserted, could operate upon such a basis.

Just how hard the plum tree will be shaken may be determined prior to the meeting here on June 20. Hundreds of low-paid workers recently have been discharged without regard to their personal financial emergencies but statisticians, expert economists and many other experts still bloom upon the public payroll, according to the charges of house members yesterday.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The case against Mayor James J. Walker formally tossed into the lap of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt by Samuel Seabury who climaxed a series of "conclusions" with the declaration Walker's conduct rendered him "unfit to continue in the office of mayor."

For in submitting to the governor the transcript of the testimony relating to the mayor before the Hofstadter committee.

Should remove Walker

"From the record submitted and after a hearing, you can determine whether the public interests and the maintenance of decent standards among public officials require that the Hon. James J. Walker should be removed from the office of mayor," Seabury wrote.

Because of the political ramifications involved in whatever course the governor decides to adopt, the matter was likely to affect his chances for the Democratic nomination for president, for which he is a leading contender.

Those who are constantly confronted with new wants that spring up on every side.

All these wants are relentless, almost merciless. They appear and make themselves keenly felt—regardless of whether or not we possess the means of appeasing or fulfilling them.

The wants of the future can be met either—shiftlessly, unexpectedly, unthrifly, with bitter disappointment, or—with foresight, planning and providence, for security and satisfaction.

WE STILL ENFORCE LAWS

IN SPITE of pessimistic patter to the effect that a crime wave is sweeping the country and that organized criminals are more powerful than organized society, there now and then appears evidence that crime is not having everything its own unhindered way.

On the front page of a single daily paper of June 2, 1932, it is recorded that one kidnapper has been sentenced to life imprisonment, six bandits were hung for murders committed during holdups, a death sentence was imposed upon a killer in a robbery and eight men, convicted of abducting a wealthy citizen and holding him for ransom, were sentenced to serve prison terms of from 5 to 25 years.

We still have some laws in this America of ours and they are more or less enforced.

MR. RASKOB'S ADVICE

In an article carried in the Ladies Home Journal for August, 1929, over the signature of John J. Raskob, financial owner of the Democratic party, Mr. Raskob urged the purchase of stocks listed on the New York Exchange, going so far as to advise housewives and small salaried people to buy stocks on the installment plan, even if they could pay no more than $15 a month, up to the limit of their savings.

That was about sixty days before the bottom fell out of the stock market.

And still there are those who think Mr. Hoover is responsible for all the troubles that have come upon the country.

LITTLE KNOWLEDGE

Among the bores is the fellow who becomes conversant with some subject to the extent that he can ask puzzling questions of some other person.

This he does at times when several persons are about and he can exhibit what he believes to be his exceptional knowledge and intelligence by answering the questions which he has propounded.

Usually such a fellow has a really limited store of knowledge. He digs up the unusual in order to appear well-read. In nearly all crowds there are fellows of this sort.

The really well-versed man does not study subjects for the purpose of displaying the knowledge he may gain. He wants to know about things for his own satisfaction and benefit. He gets his pleasure in knowing worthwhile things.

The person who is too anxious to expound a subject may or he may not have authentic information.

Even though he may have some facts, usually he possesses so few accurate items of information that his learning is the little and dangerous kind.

He does not drink deeply and only for the purpose of asking his unsual questions to which he has learned the answers.

ON BEING BORN IN A HOSPITAL

Under modern conditions thousands of babies are born annually in city hospitals. For instance, it is reported that 15,202 babies saw the light of day for the first time in New York municipal hospitals during the year 1931. This is the largest number to be born in city-owned institutions. It is more than double that of 1922. The intervening years have shown a gradual increase. It is quite likely that the privately operated hospitals would show a still greater number, which means that in the course of twelve months more babies are born in New York hospitals than would constitute the entire population of a fair-sized American city.

This has been partly brought about by the belief that the expectant mother is likely to receive better and more efficient treatment than is possible in the home. The facilities of one of these modern institutions are undoubtedly greater than could be provided even in the wealthiest of homes. But if it keeps up much of the sentiment that clusters about our arrival in the world is likely to be knocked into the proverbial cocked hat. Many persons in later life undertake journeys to the old houses where they were born. If they have become famous their admirers have a brass plate placed on the walls to tell an eager world that this was the spot which marked their worldly debut.

But who would want to point out a skyscraper hospital as the place of his nativity? And are we to lose entirely the thrill of gazing on the log cabins from whence loved presidents came? That seems to be the case, regret it as we will. Modern progress—so-called—is upsetting many treasured traditions. The home may not be in danger, but skepticism creeps in when we see so many born in hospitals and buried from funeral parlors.

Another thing lacking this season is the night shift which tumbled out of bed afterwards just in time for the first inning.

Heidelberg astronomers, who have discovered a new star, don't say which of the "Student Prince" troupes he is traveling with.

A California congressman presented the president with a solid silver pan. Just as if the president has not had enough panning.

The only difference we can see between this newest Indian mystic and Gandhi is that he has been wrapped in silence for seven years while Gandhi has been wrapped in a sheet.

"SHOWING OFF"

When you have visitors, are you one of the fond mothers who insist upon the children "showing off" in some way?

"Show the lady your drawings, dear" or "play your pretty little piece, for Mrs. So and So"—perhaps it is a dance or some other accomplishment—at any rate the child must manifest its ability.

Maybe your children are exceptionally talented but more than likely you magnify their good points. That is a natural attitude for a parent, but one to be avoided.

What you consider quite wonderful may be very ordinary in a child of the same age and size as yours. Very often those before whom the children show off believe that their own children far excel anything your child can do.

Once in a while a child is particularly gifted but usually there is a corresponding lack in other ways that other parents might brag about for their offspring.

In any case it is very boring and at the same time does not do the child any good to be conspicuous.

There is no good reason in the world why you should exhibit your child before guests.

Lost and Come Home
A Little White Rat
Men and Women, Too

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Were you ever lost? Did you ever lose your way and wander in strange places, strange ways, pretending to be brave, but in truth as forlorn as any motherless, wandering child?

And, being lost, did you ever come again to the familiar and the comforting and the secure?

Our white rat was lost. . . . And for a few hours we felt quite sorry about him and his adventure. We let him out of his box, and he had a pleasant time playing about in the garden, through the iris and under the columbine and over the grass. And then he disappeared home. We sent the cat after him, but even the cat could not find him. He had gone too far, and could not find his way home again. Or that's what we thought.

The shadows lengthened and the sun went down. Still no small white rat with the quivering whiskers and the quiet manner. It grew dark and the moon came up and still no white rat coming home to his box. . . . We gave him up and decided he was gone forever. He was far away from us, perhaps two yards away. Or some strange cat or dog had gotten him. . . . But late at night, with a searchlight, again we looked through the garden for him, without much hope of finding him. Nor did we find him.

But in the morning he was back, shivering, somewhat dirtied, subdued. Some time in the night, nosing his way, he had struck a familiar trail at last and had come eagerly to the familiar shelter of his box. He was glad to see us and he seemed glad to be home.

And though we have small knowledge of white rats and their ways and thoughts, I think I do know how he felt. . . .

Because men and women, too, are sometimes lost and wander away and fear they will never come home again. They lose hope and they lose courage. The adventure they had thought so fair, so attractive, turns grim and forbidding.

Through dark days they go, and into lonely years.

Sometimes they never get home, but sometimes they do—and then the old despised commonplace is dear to them, as it was never dear before, and a sweet contentment rises within them and takes full possession. They know then what it means to be lost and to find their way home again to the peace they had surrendered.

Admiral Benson Is Credited With Brilliant War Service

Figures Of Prominence In World Conflict Remembered As Factor In Navy's Success, As Death Ends Career

The death of Admiral William S. Benson, retired, has brought forth many tributes to his conspicuous place in the fighting organization of the country during the World war. His personal worth and achievements both in war and peace receive notable recognition, and there is expression of the deep regret felt at the passing of one who served his country well.

"One by one in many countries in the World war are fading from the picture," says the WASHINGTON STAR, as it registers the death of the doughty naval officer. Its tribute is impressive as it says: "To no man was greater credit due for the effective weight which the United States threw into the allied cause at sea than this seasoned sailor. The eventual suppression of the German submarine campaign, especially its demonstrated inability to prevent the transport of our great Army to the European battlefields, was in no small measure attributable to the cooperation which the United States Navy gave the British Grand Fleet. The mine barrage laid across the North Sea, the sleepless activities of our destroyer squadrons in the war zone, the vast and difficult task of conveying an endless stream of troop ships across the Atlantic, all these vital contributions to allied victory were made under the supreme direction of Admiral Benson."

"The death of Admiral William Shepherd Benson, whom all America honored, brings a sense of peculiar loss to Georgia, his native State," asserts the ATLANTA JOURNAL, as it says of him: "Born in Macon seventy-six years ago, of a family distinguished for its sterling worth, he graduated from Annapolis, and steered steadily forward from ensign to chief of his country's naval operations in the World war. In that high command, to which he was appointed by President Wilson, he did work of inestimable value to the Allied cause and of lasting influence, for the efficiency of his own country's sea forces. When he retired by operation of law, in the autumn of 1919, recalls the Journal, he had been forty-seven years in active service. Navy was his usefulness to the republic then over. As chairman of the Shipping Board, he continued to promote interests of vital importance both to commerce and to national defense, and to the end of his career was a source of good counsel and rare inspiration. Georgia numbered him among her best loved and most chivalric sons."

The HARTFORD DAILY TIMES declares that his death "brings public attention to the memory of one who had a splendid war record, and was among the country's great executives."

As to his work on the Shipping Board, the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL says: "He stayed with the problems of shipping until a merchant fleet was built up, until the trade routes were increased, until the efficiency of the fleet was tremendously improved, until the cost to the public had been greatly diminished, until American vessels were carrying a percentage of American products higher than had been known in a century, until the freight costs to American shippers had been reduced and until the shippers were assured water transportation when land transportation is needed." In fact, continues that paper, "this man of naval affairs saw the need of and fought for an American merchant marine until the victory was won." As the HOUSTON CHRONICLE puts it, "Admiral Benson's services to the nation as chairman of the United States Shipping Board after the war were almost as notable as were his activities while in the navy proper. Retaining his rank, he continued his peacetime work by helping America develop its merchant marine, a labor of love for one who wished to see his country's flag carried into every port of the seven seas."

Another form of service rendered by the Admiral is noted by the NASHVILLE BANNER, which states: "When the closing days of the war came, Admiral Benson was called on to help draw up the terms of the armistice, and when the American Peace Mission reached Paris he acted as its adviser on naval affairs. He was a splendid citizen, aside from his excellent service in and for the Navy, and his memory will rightly be honored as long as the recollection of the great struggle in which he played so great a part persists." THE PROVIDENCE EVENING BULLETIN pays tribute to his "tact and understanding" qualities which he displayed to perfection in the many diplomatic as well as naval problems he had to tackle. The BUFFALO EVENING NEWS remarks: "There was no question that he was a very capable man in his knowledge of all the technique of naval matters necessary to develop and direct an efficient fleet."

"In every charge committed to him he acquitted himself with distinction, chiefly, perhaps, because he gave himself wholeheartedly and devotedly to it, in simple loyalty and in full zeal. An unusual, an admirable and a most interesting character," is the opinion of the CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST. Referring to the fact that "some of the years of his long service in the navy were spent in Charleston," The Post continues: "There are many here who were his friends then and who have been his friends ever since and his admirers always, and whom he never forgot nor turned from as he went steadily to the top of his profession and into the highest command any American naval chief has ever attained. To them and to those who have heard of him from them, Admiral Benson will always be a figure of rich modality, and of fine substance, a warm hearted, devoted, true and brave gentleman."

LESS TORTURE.

That modern instrument of torture, the dentist's boring needle, will soon be relegated to a museum, if the profession finds a new German method of treating diseased teeth as efficient as those who have used it say it is. The process is as simple as it is effective.

The sick tooth is covered with a cap, and only the part to be scraped out is exposed. Then a few drops of a certain acid are put on the decayed spot, and in a few minutes the unhealthy part of the tooth can be painlessly removed. The filling is put in twenty-four hours after the first treatment.

The new process has been tried out for five years in Berlin, and is now perfected to such a degree that it is being made known to dentists everywhere.

New Castle Lads Showing Ex-cels Rival Patrols In Camp Exhibition

Reports from Camp John M. Phillips showed one of the biggest camping contests held in recent years, with ideal conditions for trying out the patrols representing various troops in the county. Some of the old-timers, feeling the loss of team members of other contests, did not do so well, but on the other hand, newly entered patrols showed some good progress in this form of scouting and made some very creditable records. The events closed late this morning.

New Castle Fifteen of the First Christian church scored a decisive victory with a high meet mark of 931 points, with New Castle 37 of the Kiwanis Club coming a second with 866 points and Ellwood 14 breaking into the "standard" grade with a score of 857½ points. New Castle 17 of the First Presbyterian church made an even standard, 850 points.

Total scores were as follows:

Seavy Exhibits Fine Portraits At His Studio

In Many Instances Pictures Of Several Generations Are Shown

E. E. Seavy, who has conducted a photographic studio in this city since 1890, a matter of 42 years, is now holding in his studio on East Washington street a salon for the display of fine portraiture produced in his own studio and in some of the finest photographic studios in the country.

The exhibit is of unusual interest and is open to the public on Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings. In the personal exhibit of the Seavy Studio is work that is on an equality and in fact surpasses those displayed from other studios. Due to the long continued existence of the studio, there are on exhibit pictures taken in several generations of the same family.

There is included 150 prints of the work of the Seavy Studio made especially for this occasion. This includes some wonderful colored photographs and the very latest idea in modern portrait work. Included in this group are the portraits of the heads of all women's clubs of the city and county and the heads of the service clubs of the city.

There are also 100 prints of all types of portraiture of a traveling loan collection of leading photographers of the country, which have been selected as the best at meetings of the photographers in convention. The display is well worth the time and effort expended in going to see it.

New Government In Chile Gets Support Pledge

Socialization Of Chile Under New Regime Has Already Started

(International News Service) SANTIAGO, Chile, June 9.—The socialization of Chile under the new Revolutionary Junta headed by Carlos Davila took definite form today, while a surging dissatisfaction among the middle classes and certain army and navy circles threatened to foment more trouble. Banks were to reopen today completely reorganized. Workers represented by councils chosen from among them, were placed in charge of all saving banks, while the Central bank of Chile, controlling foreign exchange, was placed under an entirely new and more socialistic administration.

The government announced plans for taking over the large sugar refinery at Vina Del Mar, taking it out of the hands of private operators as the first step toward a monopoly in the industry. All labor unions pledged themselves to support the new regime, and the government struck out boldly with this backing.

The room is believed to contain approximately $5,000,000 in gold bullion which went down when the liner was rammed and sunk in 1926. Divers working from the Artiglio succeeded in reaching and sending up broken pieces of the bullion boxes. The gold itself was expected to be recovered momentarily.

Commissioners Tell How Court Records Are Now Protected

"An impression seems to prevail that court house records are unprotected by any kind of vaults," County Commissioners P. O. Elder and A. E. Conner stated Wednesday. "This is wrong. Records in the register and recorder's office, prothonotary's office, treasurer's office and a portion of the county commissioners' office are protected by vaults believed to have been fireproof at the time they were built. Some improvements in the way of fireproofing have been made during recent years, but it would be hard to imagine a fire that could get at the records with their present protection."

The only portion of the court house where a fire could do much damage would be in the attic, and fire or water could scarcely get down through the ceilings in the rooms mentioned, as they are protected by heavy steel beams, strongly reinforced with concrete, and other fire resisting materials."

In company with a News reporter, Commissioners Elder and Conner, investigated fire possibilities in the basement of the court house Wednesday. There is a passage way running lengthwise, from east to west under the court house. On the south of this passage way, there is a thirty-six inch stone wall. This would be under the northern edge of the prothonotary's end register and recorder's office. Around the other three sides there is a two foot wall, stone in some places and brick in others. The treasurer's office and a portion of the county commissioners' office is protected by similar heavy walls on the north of the passage way, and around the other three sides.

On the first floor on the south side of the corridor, there is a two foot brick wall with double iron doors leading into the prothonotary's office and the register and recorder's office. All of the other three walls around these offices are about two feet thick. The ceilings are protected with the heavy iron beam work mentioned, strongly reinforced with concrete and fire resisting material. As an additional safeguard solid iron shutters cover the windows.

In the county treasurer's office there is a supposedly fireproof vault built on a solid concrete foundation. There is a somewhat similar vault in the west end of the county commissioners' office. This is where the tax books and other records are kept. In addition there is a huge iron safe or filing cabinet recently purchased for use of the county controller's records. Most of the records in the prothonotary's office are in steel filing cases. In the sheriff's office records are kept in a steel cabinet case, and in a small wooden case, that could easily be carried out by a couple of men.

In the prothonotary's office there is a portion of a wood floor under which there is no basement. This however, is surrounded by the thirty-six inch and two foot walls in the basement. There is also a heavy brick vault underneath the prothonotary's office in which, County Detective Lee now keeps liquor, which has been seized in raids. There are also wood floors in the other offices, protected by the heavy walls in the basement.

Commissioners Elder and Conner stated Wednesday that if taxpayers believe that the present vaults are not sufficient, they could build an additional vault in the open space south of the prothonotary's office, between the southeast wing and the southwest wings of the court house.

Are Hard Pushed For Shelf Space At Local Library

Have More Books On Hand
Than They Can Find Room
For On Shelves

With a slight dropping off in the demand for books during the summer months, the librarian of the New Castle free public library is hard pushed to find places for the thousands of books at the library. It is impossible to find room on the shelves for all the books that are contained in the library and unless some thing is done about the matter in the very near future the library will have to quit buying new books or else discard a great many old ones.

The situation has been in existence for some time and in order to remedy things, borrowings have been permitted to take out as many as six books at one time, as long as they return them within the two-week period allotted for the use of a book.

This helped conditions for a while after the ruling was put into effect, but things seem to be just as bad if not worse now, and is causing the librarians no little concern. Additional space will have to be provided shortly, they state, if the library is to continue to serve the public in a progressive manner.

To Award School Contract Tonight

Wampum Board Will Consider
Low Bids For School Project In Borough

Members of the Wampum school board will hold a special meeting this evening, at which time they expect to let the contract for the erection of a four-room school building.

Bids were opened on Monday evening, but because of the many different forms of contract bid upon, it was impossible to tabulate the bids at that time and determine the low bidder.

This work has been completed by The Thayer Co., of New Castle, architects, and the board will meet to determine who will get the contract.

The building is to be started at once and finished by the time school opens in September.

(Special To The News)
BESSEMER, June 9.—The commencement program of the graduating class of 1932 will be held in the main auditorium of the Bessemer high school on Friday evening at eight. The program is as follows:

Large, Painful Pimples Itched and Burned. Cuticura Healed.

"The trouble began with pimples on my forehead and later spread over my face and neck. They were large, red and painful. The pimples on my chin and around my mouth festered and itched and burned, and when I scratched them they spread and burned worse. My face looked badly, and the irritation used to wake me up at night. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in about forty days I was completely healed, after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and about a box and a half of Cuticura Ointment." Dog Catcher Settle Is Busy

Captures Three Dogs Running At Large On First Day Of Service

Complaints Registered With Police Against Dog Owners Turned Over To Him

Big dogs, little dogs, canines with pedigrees and those which can never hope to occupy a bench in a show and win a blue ribbon will be taken in tow if they run at large in the City of New Castle as Charles Settle, appointed dog-catcher recently, is now on active duty.

He started work Tuesday and the first day's catch totalled three dogs, one of which is a Police dog. He shot the other two canines and forwarded their ears to a state department. He will receive $2. for each pair of ears.

According to Settle he tours the city in an automobile and when he spies a dog running at large he takes the dog in tow and incarcerates the canine in one of the several pens he has in the rear of his residence.
Settle said today he has the right to shoot any unlicensed dog he finds running at large. When he captures a licensed dog he will keep it for 10 days. He ascertains the identity of the owner of the license dog, notifies him of the capture.

To recover a licensed dog the owner must pay a fee of 50 cents and the cost of the dog's "board."
According to Settle it costs at least 30 cents a day to keep a dog in his spound. In speaking of Police dogs he said that if fed to the dog's satisfaction, the cost would be higher.
A fee of 50 cents and "board" is also charged persons who own tag-less dogs but they will be notified that every dog must have a license.
The dog catcher does not intend to maintain a permanent pound in the yard of his residence. He said he would look around, find an appropriate place and endeavor to have it so arranged that no mischievous boys or those after their dogs could gain entrance to the pound.

Council passed an ordinance recently which authorized the appointment of a dog catcher and regulated the fees. Settle was the choice of the Shenango Valley Humane Society for the position and Mayor Mayne named him to the position. He is not paid by the city.
"I do not intend to quarrel with anyone," said Settle to a constable today. "If there is anyone who interferes with me doing my duty I will order him or her before Mayor Mayne and let him dispose of the matter."

Since the appointment of the dog-catcher there have been many reports received at police headquarters. The complaints are turned over to Settle. Today complaints came from various parts of the city.
One of the situations which arose today was that of a dog howling at night, even though the dog was tied.
Police advised that two or more persons swear to an information which can be filed against the owner.

Speer Farm Tract Ready To Receive Planter Group
Today

Donated for the relief of the unemployed, a ten-acre patch of ground on the Edward Speer farm, will provide.

Superintendent B. J. Watkins, co-send every overnight lodger who pays the mission a visit to the plot for at least a reasonable amount of work. Men associated with the maintenance of the mission's building will also work the field.

Planting of carrots, parsnips, tomatoes, beans, cabbage, corn, turnips, peppers and cauliflower and other vegetables started this morning. The workers will be transported there and back on the mission

Rural Avenue Hill In Excellent Shape

Bump At Foot Of North Jefferson Street Hill Annoyance To Motorists

An excellent job of re-surfacing has just been completed by the street department on the Rural avenue hill, with the result that it is becoming more popular with motorists. Considerable trouble has been experienced near the foot of the hill in keeping small holes filled up, but this difficulty is being gradually overcome.

Another improvement which motorists believe could be made would be the elimination of the bump of the foot of the Jefferson street hill at the intersection of Grant street. The bump on the east side was eliminated some time ago but there is a bump on the west side, where the brick joins the macadam, that is annoying to cars coming down the hill and might easily cause a serious accident in case of a broken spring.

Twenty Injured In Trolley Crash

Pittsburgh Street Car Jumps Track And Crashes Into Concrete Abutment

MOST OF INJURED ARE CHILDREN

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, June 9.—About 20 persons were recovering today from injuries suffered late last night when a special picnic trolley car carrying many school children to their homes jumped the tracks and crashed into a concrete abutment.

John Jones Jr., a passenger who was riding near the motorman, told investigators the car failed to stop when the brakes were applied. An attached trailer forced the front car from the rails and into the pillar, he said.

Motorman D. S. Davis, 32, standing at the controls in face of certain danger, was pinned in his cab as the pillar was driven through the roof at the front end of the carrier.

More than one-half of those injured were children ranging in age from one to 14 years. A number of adults also necessitated medical treatment.

George Lewis And Associates Arrested

Conducting Meeting On Croton School Property When Taken Into Custody

Answering a call Wednesday afternoon to the Croton School, Officers M. J. Young and U. G. Harper found George "Rocky" Lewis and a number of associates holding a meeting on the Croton School property.

Lewis was taken in charge by the officers and placed in the police car. Chester Allen then took his place as speaker and urged those assembled about the place to take Lewis from the car, police report.

The officers then arrested Allen and placed him in the car. This had no sooner occurred than John Bame got up and addressed the gathering and asked for volunteers to take the two men from the officers, the police assert.

The officers then arrested Bame and placed him in the police car also. Members of the crowd made no effort to release the men arrested, who were brought to the police station, where charges of suspicion were lodged against them.

Late today, charges of vagrancy, disorderly conduct, and some instances of a similar nature were prepared against Lewis, by the chief of police, while charges of disorderly conduct were prepared against Bame and Allen. A hearing is to be held on these charges.

Inspection Of Road Stands Being Made

County Health Officer George Montgomery, Making A Tour Of The County

County health officer, George Montgomery, is making a tour of county road stands where eatables are sold, to see if they are conforming to state law, relating to sanitation and cleanliness. Mr. Montgomery says that he finds most of the stands are being conducted in a satisfactory manner. In some instances he has suggested changes which have been duly made.

Owners of stands report that there are not many tourists on the road yet, it being too early for the regular vacation season. Some of the stands are enjoying a fairly good trade from local patrons, especially those who have equipped their places with tables, benches and other conveniences for the accommodation of private picnic parties.

It looks as if Adolf Hitler and his followers were about to get a measure of opportunity to show the German people whether they can work miracles as readily as they can promise them.—The Chattanooga Times.

Treasure Seeker

Sailing under sealed orders, his passport vised so that he may land in any one of eleven European countries, Charles Courtney, master locksmith, of New York, recently left on a secret mission that has to do with the glamorous word—treasure. Courtney is said to have been commissioned to open the strong boxes of a vessel recently salvaged from the sea after having been in Javy Jones' locker since the World War. He is shown in his New York shop before leaving on the romantic job.

Big Crowd Of 'Kiddies' At Park

Kiddies day at Cascade Park yesterday resulted in one of the largest turn-outs of Lawrence county children that the park has known according to Manager Carl Shaner. From noon until six o'clock the park was crowded and one of the especial features of the day was the vaudeville in the Rainbow terrace which consisted of the latest dances by children.

Fat Men!

Take This Doctor's Advice

"Gentlemen: I've repeatedly read your ads quoting testimonial letters. I have one to offer which goes them all one better. On August 22, 1931, my physical condition forced me to seek medical aid. After being alarmed by a local physician I sought and found a doctor who rates one of the leading reputations in Hudson County. On the above date I weighed 242 lbs. (only 5 ft. 4 1/2 inches in height). Also an advanced cardiac (heart) condition (valvular) blood pressure 150. Only 36 years old.

After a thorough examination he instructed me thusly. One teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in warm water every morning with a diet similar to yours.

This morning, October 31, 1931, less than 2 months I've lost 44 lbs. My present weight 198 lbs., blood pressure 138 (normal). I feel better than I have in years and am sold I look years younger." Bernard Shapiro, Brooklyn, N. Y., October 21, 1931.

Millions of men the world over are taking the little daily dose of Kruschen because they know that it keeps them feeling light and active—life really becomes a glorious adventure—well worth living.

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get a bottle of Kruschen Salts, which costs but a trifle and will last four weeks. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on sweets for a while—persist in this method every morning and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again—and know that the six mineral salts of Kruschen have presented you with glorious health.

To take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY, take Kruschen every morning—don't worry—it's the SAFE way to reduce. But be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at Eckerd's Cut Rate, New Castle Drug Co. or any drugstore in the world. And if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not joyfully satisfy you—write money back.

COUNTY SABBATH SCHOOL WORKERS IN SESSION

Convention Is Now In Session

Delegates From Entire County Gather Today At Westfield

RESOLUTIONS ARE QUICKLY ADOPTED

Convention To Conclude This Evening—Dr. J. A. MacDonald Speaks

The ninety-fourth convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association is being held in the Westfield Presbyterian church on the Mt. Jackson road today, with a splendid attendance of Sabbath school workers from all parts of the county. Robert Strickler, the county president, is in charge of the sessions.

The morning session was taken up with registration and routine matters and at noon a delicious dinner was served by the women of the Westfield church, of which Rev. Ross M. Haverfield is pastor.

Four phases of Sabbath school work will feature the conference—children's work, young people's work, home work and evangelism. Splendid speakers of national renown will speak on the various phases, and conferences among the workers will follow the afternoon session.

Speakers for the day include Mrs. J. M. Bailey of Pittsburgh, Dr. E. H. Bonnell of Philadelphia, Alice Grimes, who represents camp life, Rev. Ross M. Haverfield, Dr. James A. MacDonald of Youngstown, O., and Dr. G. S. Bennett of this city. Special music has been arranged for each session by John W. Owens, with Ollie Weaver at the piano, and Mrs. W. P. Felch and Sam Lewis will be heard in a memorial duet.

The evening session will begin at 7:30 eastern standard time.

Resolutions Passed.

The resolutions committee—Rev. R. J. Fredericks, Mrs. J. C. B. Dou-thett, Mrs. Harvey C. Robinson, Edward B. Reed and Milo Paden—presented a set of resolutions, which were approved by the convention, and in part, they are: That the Holy Scriptures be recognized as the inspired Word of God and the aim of the Sunday school is to teach the Bible to all people of all lands; the promotion of Christian life is essential to the true development of national life and the delegates are called upon to support the work of the Sunday school; to aid in every way in promoting world peace; to call attention to the 18th amendment as of great importance in the home and secular institutions of learning and the Sunday school; plea for greater enforcement of laws and stricter observance of the Lord's day; express indebtedness to the churches and missionary societies for the success of Sunday school conventions; to promote the establishment of week day Bible training schools; the W. C. T. U. be commended for its splendid work in inculcating in the minds of the public school pupils the harmful effects of alcohol and tobacco; to endorse the petition of the W. C. T. U. to the senate and house of representatives to raise the standard of motion pictures, and thanks to all who in any way helped in the success of the convention.

Local Quartet Of Fishermen Go Thru Battle To Land Carp

French creek fishermen have scored all sorts of records although one New Castle angler, Walter Scott, 426 East Park avenue, felt about as proud as any of them when he returned home last night from an outing near Cochranon with an 8 1/2-pound carp of his own catch. All honor and glory goes to Scott for hooking the monster fish, even though it took the help of three men who accompanied him to finally land him. The landing took all of 45 minutes and provided a battle for the anglers.

Scott was accompanied by Joseph McGuffie and A. W. Scott, Whippo street, and Alva Miller, R. F. D. 5. They had only been at Cochranon for 24 hours, leaving for the jaunt on Tuesday.

Other record carp taken from the French creek-waters this year have tipped the scales at 25, 16 and 12 pounds, so the Scott catch ranks just about as high up as any of the most of them. Scott's buddies landed a catch of smaller fish.

Plan To Order 3-Month Quota Of New Stamps

New Castle's post office will order an initial supply of 300,000 three-cent stamps to replace the present two. Postmaster Edwin W. Crawford announced today. The order, however, will not be placed until July 1 or filled until about a week later. The office clerks, after July 1, will sell what two-cent stamps remain along with a one-cent postage to patrons.

The 300,000 quantity will be the local three-cent stamp quota for July, August and September. The office makes its requisitions by quarters.

Bid Farewell To Earle K. Herbert Wednesday Night

48 Scouters And Friends Attend Testimonial Dinner At Shelby

ELLWOOD CITY, June 9.—Friends, relatives and scouters found it difficult to say goodbye to Earle K. Herbert last night when they assembled in the Shelby club house to honor a man who has been prominent in the community, not only from the standpoint of a good citizen, but also in his efforts to bring scouting in Ellwood City to a higher level.

A testimonial dinner had been arranged for the former field executive in recognition of his recent work here. Mr. Herbert resigned his position here in favor of one in California. He is expected to leave about June 20.

Covers for 48 were laid at several tables appointed and centered and adorned with spring flowers. An excellent menu was served after which a delightful program was carried out. Music by an orchestra was provided before and after the dinner. The Rev. C. P. Christiansen delivered the invocation. This was followed by a period of group singing led by Charles Carbeau.

C. P. Cloak, president of the local scouters' organization, presided on the occasion and introduced the toastmaster, J. J. McLaughlin, who proved to be very capable and humorous. Much credit for the success of the affair is due him. He compared the affair last night with that of a funeral, because as a rule a man's work is recognized after his death. It is just so with Mr. Herbert, who is leaving our midst for other fields, and we are realizing that we are losing a valuable man from the community. Toastmaster McLaughlin then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Bevers of Ambridge, who entertained the gathering for a period. Mr. Bevers gave a humorous political speech followed by several imitations, assisted by Mrs. Bevers.

Superintendent of Schools W. Ray Smith, stated that he has always been proud of Mr. Herbert and his work here and is now sorry that he cannot find it possible to remain. A man who has taken such an interest in his community as Mr. Herbert cannot help being a success in what ever he undertakes. After two vocal numbers by John Preston, assisted on the piano by Miss Leona Davis,

EARLE K. HERBERT

President Cloak surprised the honor guest when he presented him with several gifts in behalf of the scout movement here, such as Jack Pearson, John Lindgren and Nelson Runyan. County Executive Herbert Horton was also present to render a few words.

President Cloak surprised the honor guest when he presented him with several gifts in behalf of the scout movement here, such as Jack Pearson, John Lindgren and Nelson Runyan. County Executive Herbert Horton was also present to render a few words.

In his response Mr. Herbert thanked those present for the honor and credit extended him on this occasion. He asserted that he very much enjoyed his work here and will always have memories of this city. He was glad to have helped the Boy Scout movement and expressed the desire to see a greater organization here in the future.

General arrangements for the affair were under the supervision of John Lindgren, who was capably assisted by Nelson Runyan and J. J. McLaughlin.

At the close of the program all were invited to view Shelby's new indoor swimming pool, which has been converted into a beautiful solarium. It will officially open today.

Preceding the start of the first event a gigantic parade over the downtown streets will be held with the Senior High band under the supervision of Mr. Repligle leading the march with members of the Croton M. E. church, friends and contestants forming at the Diamond and proceeding to Taggart Field via Washington street.

The various young athletes have been training hard for the past several weeks and will be in tiptop shape when the whistle sends them into action on the cinder path. Numerous valuable prizes have been donated for the winners of the events, by the merchants of New Castle and other cities.

The names of some of the former High School track men are contained on the lists handed into the committee, thus assuring the spectators of some real competition.

Events Listed
The committee has worked untiringly in arranging for the meet which will no doubt be one of the biggest ever attempted here and even overshadowing the meet held last year.

Gomez-Grove Best Hurlers

Yankee And Athletic Stars Engaging In Real Duel For Premier Pitching Post

PIRATES TUMBLE BEFORE PHILLIES

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 9.—The south-paw duel between Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, brilliant young star of the New York Yankees, and the veteran Lefty Grove, of the Athletics, for recognition as the premier hurler of the American league, waxed hotter than ever today, with Gomez enjoying a slight edge.

The slim ace of the Yankees has whiffed 84 batters and leads both leagues in that specialty. He has won ten games and lost only one. Grove Wins Eleven.

Grove has 76 strikeouts to his credit, has won eleven games and lost three. Lefty has won his last ten games, while Gomez has captured seven in a row.

Both hurlers pitched and won yesterday, Gomez beating Detroit 5 to 4 and Grove taming Cleveland, 3 to 1. "Goofy" struck out thirteen men but issued nine passes.

Grove helped win his own game against Cleveland with a home run that probably afforded him more pleasure than his pitching feats.

Washington, had the White Sox ready for the cleaners but with two out in the ninth and the bases full, Charlie Berry smote a triple that gave Chicago the ball game, 3 to 2.

Goose Goslin walloped a homer, triple and single and "Spinach" Melillo chipped in with four hits as the Browns laced the Red Sox again 11 to 4.

Football Scores
Football scores prevailed in the National league. The Cards clubbed five Boston pitchers for 20 hits, winning 15 to 8, and shoved the Braves back into second place. The Braves collected 15 safeties.

The Cubs regained the league lead, scoring two runs in the 14th inning to nose out Brooklyn, 7 to 5. Hal Lee clouted a homer, a triple and single as the Phillies took an 11 to 10 slugfest from the Pirates.

Four Cincinnati errors helped the Giants beat the Reds again, 9 to 2, and take sixth place away from Dan Howley's men, who have lost their last seven starts and are only two points away from the cellar after making an impressive start in the race.

Lawrence Indies Top Union A. A.

Lawrence Indies won from the Union A. A. 14 to 6 in a Twilight League game played at Scotland Lane field. The Indies won through the fine pitching of Russo who held the Union team to six hits. Billyk featured the game with a home run drive.

The Indies had three big innings the third, fourth and seventh when they tallied 12 of their runs. Majocha, Billyk, and S. Zidow hit hard for the winners, with Carr and Rech the best for the Union team.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Law. Indies 116 004 2-14 15 2 Union A. A. 104 100 0-6 6 3 Batteries: Union A. A.: Schels, Gunneto, Butler, Norris and Severa. Indies: J. Russo and Cwynar. Umpires—Guinagh and Kirschner.

ACKNOWLEDGING THE TRUTH

—A STATEMENT BY THE GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR COMPANY

THE Gillette Safety Razor Company feels called upon to make a confession and a statement that are undoubtedly unique in the annals of American business. It is with deep regret and no little embarrassment that we do this in order to tell you frankly what actually happened when we introduced a new Gillette razor and blade.

Soon after this was done, we found that, although the great majority was pleased, some users complained quality was not up to standard.

We learned why. Our equipment had not been equal to the task of producing millions of blades at high speed without a certain variation in quality that affected a small portion of our output. As a result some blades that left the factory were not as good as you had a right to expect.

Immediately we directed our principal effort toward the achievement of uniformity. Everything within our power was done to end variation. More than this—impossible as it seemed of accomplishment at the time—we set out to develop or find a better production process, having as a major requirement the elimination of varying quality.

We discovered and purchased for our exclusive use and at the cost of millions of dollars a manufacturing process that was amazingly superior to our own.

By this method, modern and automatic, millions of blades can be made at top speed without variation in quality.

We incorporated refinements of our own invention and installed the new machinery, throwing out all of our old equipment.

Now we announce today's Gillette blades, made by the new management. The usual superlatives have no place in this sincere statement of ours, so we will let the quality of the blades speak for itself. The green Gillette package remains unchanged, but the blades are new in every respect, quality, performance, and method of manufacture.

You can try today's Gillette blades without risking a cent. If you don't agree they are superior, return the package and your dealer will refund your money. Our reputation depends upon the proof of these claims. Being absolutely certain of the quality of these Gillette blades, we do not hesitate to make this statement over our signature.

The Gillette Blue Super-Blade

The $2 Kroman De Luxe blade has been withdrawn from production. We offer the Blue Super-Blade as its successor. This sensational blade is far superior to the Kroman and costs considerably less. You pay only a few cents more than for the regular blade and get unmatched shaving comfort. Its extraordinary shaving performance will convince you that the Blue Blade is the sharpest ever produced. A blue color has been applied to the blade for easy identification. It is contained in a blue package, Cellophane wrapped.

ANOTHER GRASS
FIRE IS REPORTED

Firemen were called to Front street, above the Pennsylvania R. R. tracks at 9:25 Wednesday evening, by an alarm from box 17. They found a grass fire in progress on the hillside, which had evidently been started by sparks from a passing locomotive. The blaze was extinguished by use of the booster tank on the Pirsch truck.

Society by the Sea

Above are two of New York's most popular society leaders, pictured as they enjoyed the balmy breezes on Long Island. At left is Mrs. Orson D. Munn, who is a prominent member of the exclusive Summer colony at Southampton, enjoying a stroll in beach pajamas. At right is Mrs. William K. Dick, one of Gotham's outstanding hostesses, who was formerly Mrs. John Jacob Astor, as she appeared at the Atlantic Beach Club.

Many Aliens Being Kept At County Home

With a larger list of guests than there has been in some time, Perry Snyder, superintendent of the city-county home, is cultivating an increased acreage this year to provide for the men and women there this winter.

The daily total living at the farm varies, but it is averaging about 135, of which 26 are aliens who have never been naturalized. Under the international agreements an alien who has been in this country two years or more cannot be deported as a pauper and the result is that these people must be kept by Lawrence county.

The strawberry and other berry crops under cultivation at the farm, like every other farm, show the need of water at the present time. With some rain the strawberry crop would be heavy. The able-bodied men at the farm are being used in part to cultivate the farm and perform the many chores necessary to the place.

It would be more endurable if some eloquent genius could make us think it a depression to end depressions.—The Schenectady Gazette.

Then, too, it may be that Congressmen vote dry because somebody gets them ossified the night before.

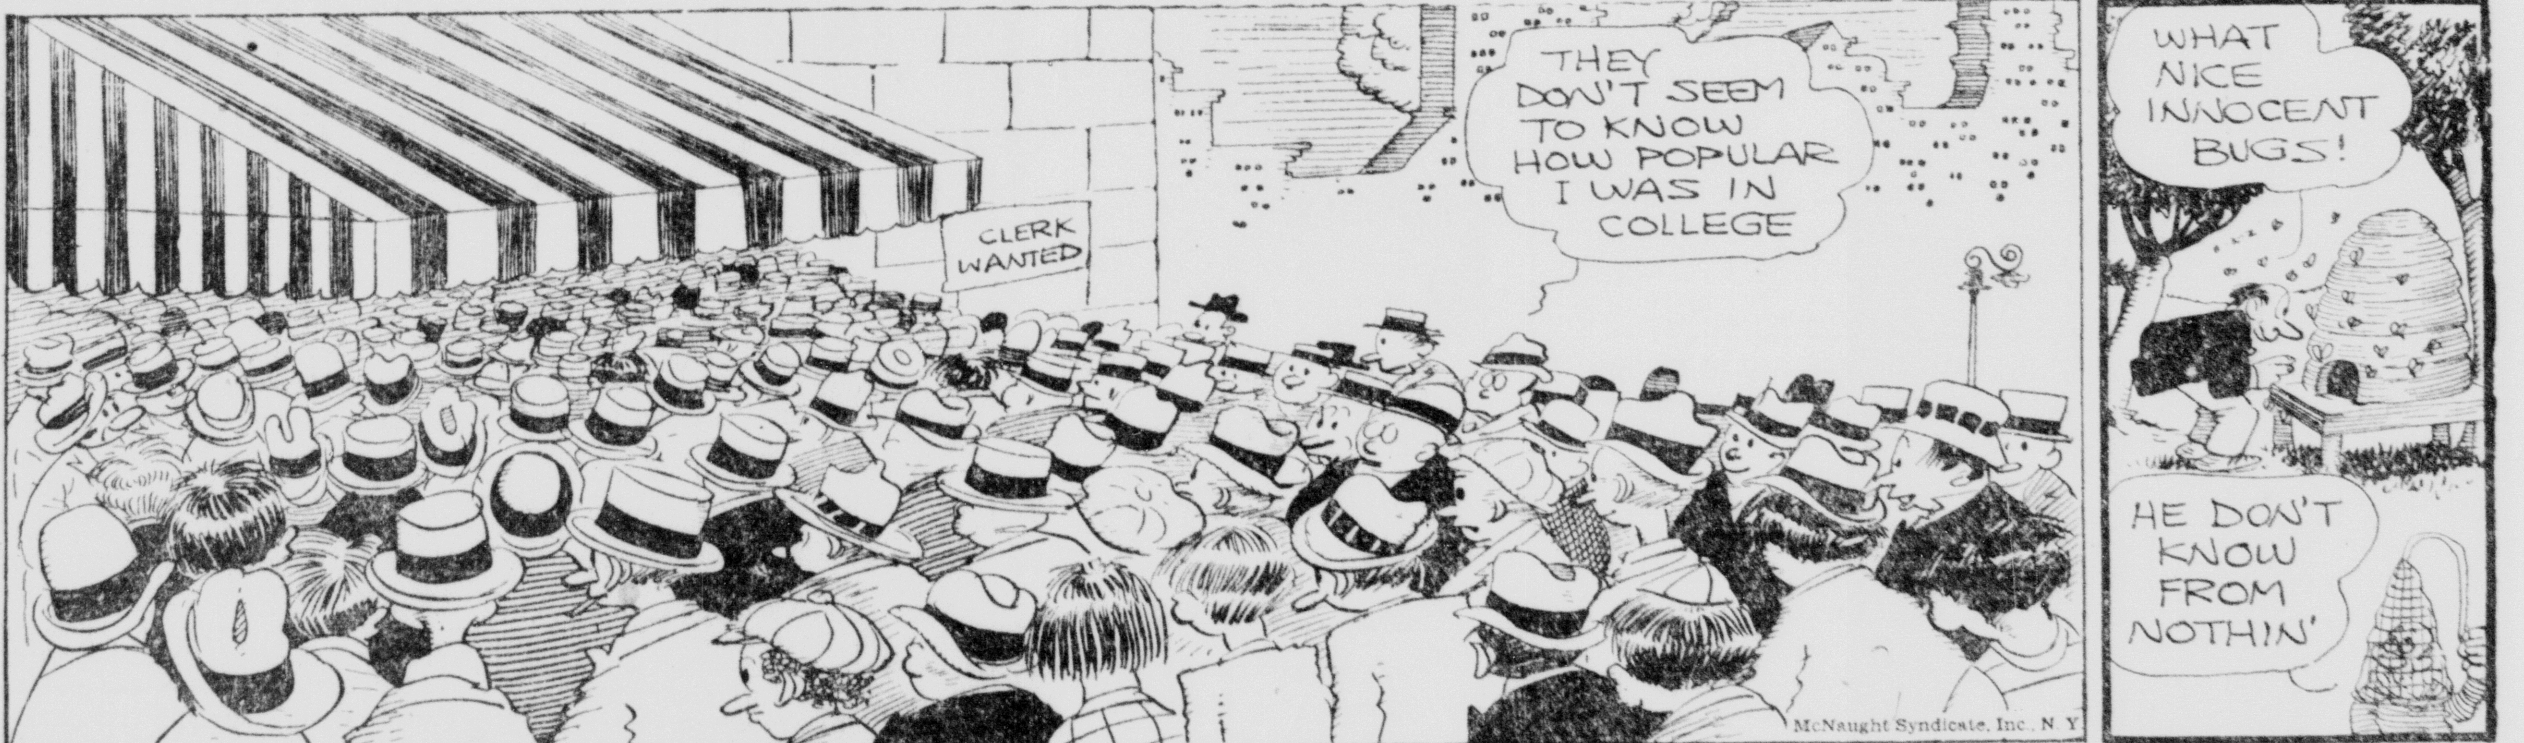

New Liner Ready for Maiden Voyage

This is the French Line's new 30,000-ton cabin boat, the Champlain, which will make her maiden voyage from Le Havre, France, to New York the latter part of this month. An oil burner, the new liner developed a speed of 21 knots in her official trials recently, which makes her the fastest boat of her type, in addition to being the largest cabin liner ever built. The Champlain has de luxe accommodation for 1,053 passengers.

More Troops for Bonus Army

Owing to a desire on the part of the veterans to keep their ranks free of Red agitators, new arrivals at the Bonus Army camps in Washington, D. C., are required to present proof of their service and to register in a specific company. Above, newly arrived vets are shown signing up at Camp Camden, in a Washington suburb.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

KNOWING THAT IF HIS PLANS FOR GOING TO AMERICA BECAME KNOWN HIS FATHER-IN-LAW DUKE DE NOAILLES WOULD HAVE HIM FORCIBLY RESTRAINED, LAFAYETTE WAS COMPELLED TO ARRANGE TO LEAVE PARIS SECRETLY, WITHOUT EVEN BIDDING ADIEU TO HIS FAMILY—

JUST BEFORE SETTING OUT FOR BORDEAUX, LAFAYETTE PENNED FAREWELL LETTERS TO HIS WIFE AND FATHER-IN-LAW TO BE DELIVERED AFTER HE HAD LEFT.

IT NEARLY BROKE HIS HEART TO SLIP AWAY FROM HIS YOUNG WIFE AND ONE-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER WHOM HE ADORED.

ON THE NIGHT OF MARCH 16, 1777, LAFAYETTE, DEKALB AND A DOZEN VOLUNTEERS LEFT PARIS SECRETLY AND RODE SWIFTLY TOWARD BORDEAUX. LAFAYETTE'S GREAT ADVENTURE HAD BEGUN.

ELDER VS. RYANTOWN
Ryantown of the Twilight league and Elder A. C. will clash at 6:30 p. m. D. S. T. Friday on the Ryantown plot.

The government will experiment with the radio as a substitute for foghorns. Will mariners hear croons instead of sirens along the reef strewn shore?—The Louisville Courier-Journal.

DIAMOND DUST

Boro A. C. let loose with their bludgeons in the seventh inning, scored eight runs and beat South Hill of the Twilight loop.

Grednick, Smith, Anderson and Dunkerly got extra base hits and Sinkner got fine support from his teammates.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If the bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of substitutes. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

In all the movements of the Bon-us Marchers over the country, few of them will be able to point to a faster movement than the one through New Castle Wednesday evening. Nearly 350 of them marched in from Lowellville and inside of twenty minutes from the time they landed on the fire station lot, they were on their way out in trucks.

They didn't even stop for supper. The trucks were waiting to haul them along, and eating could always be done farther along the line. Their next stop was Beaver Falls and by eight o'clock New Castle had no bonus marchers.

With schools dismissed, the women who follow Helen Willis Moody for their sport are going big. Out on Butler avenue the courts show as many women as men, and one of the tennis tournaments run off there was entirely for women.

We may be wrong, we have been before, but that track meet at Taggart Field looks like a natural Friday night. As Harry Lader would put it, "there'll be runnin' and jumpin' and all sorts of sports."

There was a day when mixing concrete was a job that took a lot of men with strong backs. Then some smart egg invented concrete mixers and now we have them nearly big enough to park a car inside the mixing bowl. That's the size they're using on the Willow Grove bridge.

A truck load of gravel and sand and five sacks of cement is just one dose for the huge mixer. A dose that is repeated every ten minutes. The centrifugal force of the mixer whirls the material around in a flying mass and shortly the batter is ready, not for wheelbarrows or human hands, but for a huge bucket hung on a cable.

This swings through the air like some mammoth spider, the chute of the mixer is opened and a great mass of grout roils down. An instant's pause and the bucket is back through the air to the abutment for the bridge, dropping its load into the hole in the ground.

You won't know the highway when the new bridge is completed. That mean double S curve will be eliminated, the bridge will be wide enough to pass two cars easily, and you'll leave the bridge on the south-west side straight on to the highway instead of making a 90 degree turn to the left.

Garden invitations are coming in lately. Folks call up about some neighbor's garden that is particularly nice and if we can get around to it, we'll make some visits in the next few days.

Men Working On
Three Projects

Approximately 16 men today worked on the Neshannock creek stone wall. The wall has been built for a distance of about 200 yards. Men have resumed quarrying stone at the Leiby street quarry, according to Foreman J. K. McQuiddy.

Another group of men are clearing the East Lincoln avenue hillside and a third group is putting Gaston Park baseball field in condition.

FISH FRY PLANNED

Members of the city's Phalanx fraternity will stage a fish fry at Castle Beach on Wednesday evening, June 15, it was decided when they met in the Y. M. C. A. for a brief meeting last night. Michael Bowden and a committee will make arrangements.

Observe Methodist
Night At Croton

Methodists large and Methodist small and Methodist from near and far filled the auditorium of the Croton Avenue Methodist church to overflowing Wednesday evening when "Methodist" night was observed in the anniversary program, which marks 85 years of existence of this church.

Dr. C. G. Farr, superintendent of the New Castle district of the Erie conference, presided at the service and greetings were brought from Dr. H. C. Weaver, Dr. S. L. Maxwell, Rev. W. H. Downing, Rev. V. L. Bloomquist and Rev. Thomas Francis, pastors of local churches. The prayer of the evening was offered by Rev. Emerson Jones of Bemis Point, N. Y.

The choir of the Epworth Methodist church, directed by Chester Reynolds, and accompanied by Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle, sang three splendid numbers, "Winter is Past," "Remember Now Thy Creator" and "Oh Lord, Thou Art My God" with 35 voices blending most harmoniously as the numbers resounded throughout the auditorium.

J. H. Clements, D. D. Ph. D., superintendent of the Meadville district, gave the address of the evening, taking "What Is the Church" as his theme, and a most scholarly, inspiring discourse kept the large audience at attention throughout.

At 6:30 this evening the fellowship dinner will take place in the dining room of the church and throughout the service, music will be furnished by Earl Williams and his orchestra.

At 8:15 the cantata "The Good Shepherd" will be presented by the augmented chorus choir of the church, with Mrs. June Bernard as the conductress.

A special chest love offering will be lifted at this evening's service.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Five postoffices in the vicinity of New Castle will be demoted to lower grades on July 1 because of declines in postal receipts. Corresponding changes in the salaries of the postmasters at the places affected will be made, the postoffice department states.

Elwood City, Coraopolis and Monessen, all first class offices, will be reduced to second class because of a falling off in postal collections. Likewise will Jackson Center and North Bessemer be demoted from third to fourth class offices.

The standing of several hundred postoffices in the country as a whole will be changed on July 1 because of changes in postal collections. New Castle will continue to rank as a first class office.
